The Red Book.

Roy E. Norton of the far northwest, is a young writer who is fast gaining fame and favor through the columns of the Red Book. In the March number he offers a story entitled "Old Bill Cupid," in which he creates a delightful character, giving every promise of fascinating adventure. His experiences this time are in Japan, where he arranges a marriage and acquires a name which heads the story. In the April Red Book the second adventure of the same hero is to appear under the title "Bill Sum, Honest Smuggler." He has extended his wanderings from China to Japan with interesting results. Both stories are illustrated by the Japanese artist, Y. Sayonara, who interprets the Oriental scenes and characters with a charming combination of truth and humor.

T. Y. Morgan Announces.

Few men are more favorably known in Ardmore than T. Y. Morgan, who announces his candidacy for alderman today. He consented to make the race at the solicitation of his friends and the request of many in that ward. Mr. Morgan has the best interests of Ardmore at heart and he has been an active worker in behalf of the town. He would be a valuable acquisition to the council because he is conservative and the first ward and the town would not be neglected at his hands.

The advocates of single statehood in Ardmore are greatly encouraged by the advice received here, the nature of which, would indicate that there is a possibility for the passage of the statehood measure. Many seem, however, to think that the chance is slim. The report of the conference committee is anxiously awaited here.

The civil term of court opened at Marietta Monday. Judge Townsend and other officials went to that place on the noon train. The docket is very light and the court will probably finish its work before the week ends.
